Dialogue

Mr. Smith: Hello, young boy! Which rides do you want?

Tom: I want to get on the roller coaster. I think it is fantastic.

Mr. Smith: I disagree with you. It can be terrifying for you. The carrousel is better for a boy at your age.

Tom: Oh, I hate it. I think it is dull. The roller coaster is more exciting than the carrousel.

Mr. Smith: I'm sorry, you can't get on the roller coaster. You are too young. Do you want to ride the bumper cars?

Tom: Yeah! I like them. They are fun.

Dialogue

Sidney: Hey! Look at the poster! There is a carnival in the town.

Gab: Wow! I love carnivals. There is a fair, too.

Sidney: Look! A roller coaster! It's my favorite. The roller coaster is amazing!

Gab: Oh! I disagree. I think it is terrifying. I don't like it. I love the train ride and the carrousel. They are fun.

Sidney: Carrousel? Ooh, no! It's very boring. I hate it. I think the ghost train is more exciting than the carrousel.

Gab: But the ghost train is horrible. I feel scared. I like bumper cars. They are so crazy!

Sidney: Yeah! I agree. Bumper cars are fun. We can ride the bumper cars together, then.
